COURT REVERSES RUEF DECISION

for Fourteen Years.

San Francisco, Feb. 28.-A great surprise was sprung to-day by the State Supreme Court when it handed down a decision setting aside its recent order granting a rehearing in the case of Abe Ruef. This is a flat reversal of the previous decision, and it means that Ruef must immediately begin serving his fourteen years' sentence, unless he or his attorneys discover some legal technicality to block the court's action.

The decision, which is very long, recites that the find of the appellate court in Ruef's case is final. The Supreme Court "saves its face" by basing this decision in point that the absence of Judge Henshaw from the State when the Sheriff Sends Description to rehearing was granted rendered a decision invalid.

The real truth is that the court reversed its decision, which was unanimously condemned as narrow, and it took ad-

Sir Charles Holroyd, director of the National Gallery, told the correspondent of The Washington Herald to-day that it was true that Lord Lansdowne had an offer of $500,000 for the picture. The nationality of the bidder he did not care to reveal. Lord Lansde ne was desirous that the picture should remain in England and had offered it to the trus-Gailery at the same figure. He had also promised to contribute $25,000 toward the purchase

Sir Charles said he was most anxious that the picture should be retained in England and he believes that the remainder of the amount required will be forthcoming. Lord Lansdowne has not fixed the date on which the option of the National Gallery will expire,

STINGY WITH PRAISE.

I know a man who always sighs, and looks disgruntled, tired, and sad, when he sits down to eat the pies his wife has baked, to make him glad. "These pies are good enough, I guess," he'll say, as into them he'll wade; "but oh," he'll cry, in great distress, "the good old pies my mother made!" I think it is the meanest trick discouraging a frau like that, and some one ought to take a brick and swat him gently on the hat. She brews him coffee that would make the nectar of Olympus fade. "All coffee," says he, "is a fake, beside the kind my mother made!" No odds how elegant a dish his wife may lovingly provide, he'll wipe his eyes and breathe a wish to have the dope his mother fried. I weary of his thankless tunes: I knew his mother, long ago; she couldn't cook for moldy prunes, and some fine day I'll tell him so. His wife can beat her forty blocks at cooking porridge, pork, or pies, and vet she has to stand his knocks, and listen to-his doleful sighs. Those men who do not praise their wives when wives put up a splendid lunch, should struggle to reform their lives; they're worth about ten cents WALT MASON. PENALTY FOR DELINQUENTS

New Flat Assessment Will Vield the City About $35,000 a Year More Than Under Present System-Protracted Debate Carried on Before a Decision Is Reached.

Alexandria, Va., Feb. 28.-Following a protracted debate, in which many members talked till well-nigh exhausted about the city tax rate and the needs of Alexandria, the city council shortly before 11 o'clock to-night passed upon the tax rate question, knocking out the report of the finance committee by a vote of 10 to 6 and adopting a flat rate of $1.70 on the $100, with a penalty of 6 per cent added after July 1 for delinquents. The old rate was $1.90 on the $100, with a discount of 6 per cent off for prompt payment. The taxpayers of Alexandria will therefore, under the increased assessment just made, save only about 36 cents on the $1,000 on city taxes, and in order to do this they will have to pay their taxe on the day they are due, which will b July 1. A part of the public is most exasperating-most unfair-and sometimes untruthful and tricky. In a shoe store the other day

She had worn it so long that she knew she could not return it and expect the store to exchange it at its full value.

So she hit upon the plan of hrowing the coat on the floor and stamping on it with the heel of her shoe. She succeeded in cutting through the lining and the seal. Then she took the coat back to the store, claiming that it had been damaged, and demanded a credit for it. The fur manager said he had been in the business twenty-five years and had never seen anything like the cut in that coat. He examined it critically, discovered just what had been done, because he noted the heel print in the lining, but he gave the woman full credit and took the roat back. A year later the woman returned to the store and told the manager what she had done, whereupon the manager told her that he knew at the time just what had occurred, and complimented her on her courage in finally telling the truth
